

“ ”

Katie Chowdhury

Global Head, Digital Health
Technology Devices and Specialty Products, Regulatory Affairs,
AbbVie

DiMe's International Regulatory Pathway project is the first global deep dive of the international digital health landscape on the current Health Authority policies and guidance surrounding technologies. These resources will make a large impact on how traditional pharma companies navigate the global landscape in clinical trial strategies and beyond!

