

“ ”

Sarah Scalia

Director, Innovation &
Business Development,
Boston Children's Hospital

Pediatric innovation has always come with unique challenges—from fragmented care models to a shortage of digital health solutions designed specifically for kids. This playbook provides the roadmap we need to bring safer, more effective, and scalable digital health technologies to children and families. We're excited to support this effort and can't wait to see the real impact it will have.